Promotes conservation of natural resources through citizen action and public education and addresses itself to urban environmental concerns.

Do you support the following:

- Phase-out of nuclear plants
- Development of safe sources of energy, especially solar
- Implementation of programs to conserve energy

Do you need more information on these subjects? If so, you are invited to contact the COMMITTEE FOR NUCLEAR RESPONSIBILITY, Box 2329, Dublin, Cal 94566

The TASK FORCE AGAINST NUCLEAR POLLUTION, INC., 153 E St., SE, Washington DC 20003 (202) 543-7232 is running a nationwide petition drive to get rid of dangerous nuclear power plants and develop safe, economical solar energy fast. Petitions are sorted according to Congressional District, so each of our elected officials can see growing evidence of anti-nuke voters. Please write for petitions and info.

Food Conspiracies, 165 W. Harvey Street, Phila., PA. 19144; a loose collective of food cooperative organizers and activists working to encourage others to start neighborhood food cooperatives; publishes a 38 pp. handbook on starting food coops, cost: $1.25; working on a handbook on coop "spin-off" activities; advance orders: $1.25; offers free advice and information to on-going coops experiencing problems not covered in the handbooks.

FOOD CO-OP PROJECT, 64 E. Lake, Chgo, Ill 60601 (312) 269-8101 helps strengthen and organize food co-ops; educates members about co-op operations and food. It attempts to link consumer and farm/producer co-ops.

A major focus is research and organizing against practices of retail food chains and other agri-businesses. Develops programs for political consciousness-raising in co-ops and other food consumer groups.

They provide skilled resource persons, and publish a national newspaper, Food Co-op Nooz, and a Food Co-op Directory. Samples of each are available in a package for $1.

★ NATIONAL COALITION FOR SOCIAL CHANGE, 58 N 3rd St, Phila., PA 19106, (215)923-6763: is a slowly expanding network of local groups of mostly young people committed to supporting the struggles of poor people in the U.S. and of Third World people. Seeing ourselves as often part of exploitative relationships, we seek to inform ourselves about how the world really works. Their support includes boycott organizing, letter-writing campaigns, speaking tours, curriculum revision, picketing, and providing material and financial assistance. Some areas of concern they are already working in are liberation of Southern Africa, decolonization of Puerto Rico, drought relief for West Africa, Latin American movements; in the U.S., the areas include Puerto Rican farmworkers' efforts, UFW and other Chicano movements, the criminal justice system, etc. They print a newsletter, can supply information and resources on above and other topics, suggest possible local issues wherever new people are and will help organize a group in communities.

TOPICS

TOPICS* is the national newsletter of the DC Gazette, one of America's oldest alternative newspapers. The DC Gazette, started as an alternative community paper in 1966, has traditionally provided its readers with national news they wouldn't find in establishment media along with its coverage of local affairs.

Now the Gazette's national report is available outside DC. We call it TOPICS — a monthly report of topics we think you should know about. And where possible, we let you know where you can find out more about the topics we mention. TOPICS also contains a report of special interest to urban dwellers — City Lines.

You can subscribe to TOPICS for just $3 a year.
